$700,000 Bay complex construction underway

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Construction of a new $700,000, 14-unit apartment complex in Bay St. Louis is underway and expected to be completed in August.
Chateau de St. Louis is the name of the two-story apartment house which will front Third Street on a block of property between Carre Court and Ballard Street.
A half-hexagonal floor plan including an elevator and ramps is designed for accessibility to retired senior citizens (65 years and older).
Mayor Larry Barnett officially broke ground for the development at 3 p.m. Wednesday.
John Breeden of 107 Ballentine St. in Bay St. Louis is owner and will manage the apartments which will consist of two one-bedroom and 12 two-bedroom flats and one three-bedroom unit.
Monday explained ramps will provide wheelchair access to first-floor apartments and an elevator and stairs in a lobby area will serve second-floor residents.
Breeden said none of the all-electric apartments will be furnished with a stove, built-in oven, refrigerator, hood, dishwasher and trash disposal will be provided in kitchen areas along with plumbing and wiring to accommodate dishwashers and stoves.

The owner said a courtyard area behind the complex will be available to residents who would like to plant vegetable or flower gardens.
He speculated each unit would rent at about $400 per month.
"We're trying to provide an apartment which is similar to a house—homey and as private as possible," Breeden stated regarding the unusual floor plan configuration.
Breeden noted upstairs apartments will have private porches and the first floor flats will include individual patios.
The owner said safety features to be installed in the apartment development include a sprinkler system and firewalls separating each unit.
John Balah of Bay St. Louis, an engineer, designed the complex with Galloway and Rock Architects of New Orleans as consultants.
General Contractor Carl Helmann of Bay St. Louis is building the apartment development which is financed by Whitney Bank of New Orleans.
Breeden said the only other apartment house on the Mississippi Gulf Coast similar to Chateau de St. Louis is in Pascagoula.

These apartments will also provide additional tax revenue for the city, he added.
Other features of the flats include space in kitchens and bathrooms to accommodate wheelchairs, and hand grates near toilets and bathtubs.
Noise reduction features include second floor concrete flooring, double walls between apartments, vehicle parking at each end of the building, insulation, double-paned windows, and central air conditioning and heating.
Each apartment will have 1.5 baths with elevated toilets.
For residents without washers and dryers, coin-operated laundries will be located on each floor.
Stairs will also be located at each end of the brick veneer building.
Breeden will provide exterior lighting in the parking areas, porches, lobbies and meeting rooms.
She will also air condition the lobbies and meeting rooms and pay all water and sewerage charges.
In addition to rent, residents will be required to pay for their electrical usage.

Third waste disposal well to be drilled at du Pont

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Co. Inc. is planning to have a third chemical waste disposal well drilled at the Delisle Plant located in the Spring.
Two underground wells reaching the Washita-Fredricksburg sandstone formation at a depth of 10,000 feet are currently in use.
The plant disposes of liquid wastes containing hydrochloric acid, iron chloride and various other metal chlorides.
Bill Barnett, of Jackson, State Department of Natural Resources, Bureau of Pollution Control Industrial wastewater coordinator, Tuesday confirmed the new waste facility will be drilled to the same depth as the two other wells and is named Outfall No. Four.

He said Outfall No. One disposes of waste water containing a trace of heavy metal into the Bay of St. Louis.
Barnett explained the new waste disposal well will be drilled to the same depth as the two other wells and is named Outfall No. Four.

manager, Tuesday said du Pont crew are now preparing a site for the drilling operation which will dig the plant's third underground waste injection well.
He reported a definite drilling schedule has not been established because the company is waiting a permit from the state.
"We're waiting for a permit from the state," he said.
"We're waiting for a permit from the state," he said.

which occurred about two years ago when a routine maintenance crew dropped a tool into Outfall No. Two.
He said crews worked for two months to retrieve the tool and closed the well for an additional two months to repair damages caused by the operation.
"During that time plant personnel were just holding their breath hoping no problems would arise which would close the alternate well too," Barnett stated.
"Michel said the plant would be temporarily closed if both wells were not available to dispose the hazardous wastes."
He reported a shut down would cause du Pont to lose millions of dollars and temporary layoffs of plant personnel.
The assistant manager emphasized the additional well will not increase the amount of waste material injected underground.
"Michel said the amount of fluids pumped underground varies so much depending on the plant's operating rate," but estimated the plant on an average injects 200 gallons per minute into the Washita-Fredricksburg sand.

He reported the underground wastes would seep through sand under about 2,000 surface acres in 20 years—the size of du Pont's plant site.
Du Pont recently repositioned for received a permit for the third well.
Barnett noted the permit prohibits du Pont from injecting any other wastes than those produced at the Delisle Plant.
He said the wastes injected underground by du Pont contain iron, chromium, lead and virtually all metals in small quantities.
"What results is a highly acidic and metallic solution," Barnett stated.
He reported du Pont's injection wells are some of the deepest in the nation.

Michel explained the disposal wells' 10,000 feet of injection tubing is 4.5 inches in diameter and constructed of fiberglass and titanium to resist corrosion.
He said the injection tubing is surrounded by an annular area and an approximate nine-inch steel casing.
Michel reported the brine pressure is monitored to detect any drop in pressure which would indicate a leak.
Another 18-inch diameter steel casing surrounds the nine-inch casing from the surface to about 3,000 feet in depth.
Cement is poured between the two steel casings.
Michel said the outer steel casing is to insure protection of fresh water aquifers from infiltration by the hazardous wastes.
He reported all pipe placed underground is sealed at joints also to avoid leaks.
"Our view is that our waste disposal system is not going to damage the environment," Michel added.

Third Shuttle slated March 22

The third launch of the Space Shuttle from Kennedy Space Center in Florida has been set for March 22 at 8 a.m. CST. The crew for the third Shuttle mission, STS-3, is Jack Lowman, commander, and C. Gordon Fullerton, pilot.

Objectives of the STS-3 flight, the third in a series of four development flight tests, will be to continue engineering evaluation of the reusable spacecraft with particular emphasis on its thermal characteristics.

In the Orbiter Columbia's cargo bay will be a space science payload (OSS-1) with astronomy and space plasma physics instruments.

Also in the bay will be the Canadian-built remote manipulator arm which will be extensively tested for the second time.

On days and three hours in the Columbia's bay, the Columbia's bay will be used to test the remote manipulator arm which will be extensively tested for the second time.

Suit

Monday Arnold noted, "We would never have been able to gather all the information without the help of the Hancock Sheriff Ronald Peterson and investigators Alvin Lanner, Delbert Seay and the State Highway Patrol investigators." We began our investigation on January 1982 at the law firm of Peterson and we worked in conjunction with the State Audit Department," he noted.

State Auditor Hamp King and Allan are named as plaintiffs in the case. King's office had ordered the money be repaid last year but the defendants took no action and the case was turned over to the Attorney General's office. Also named in the suit are the insurance companies which bonded the school officials with a $100,000 policy each.

Louis Lader was the only official not bonded, according to the suit. The suit states Louis Lader's bond was "allowed to expire due to non-payment of premiums."

In November of last year the current school board hired the law firm of Gex, Gex and Phillips as lead counsel and Attorney Richard Dymond of Gulfport and Robert Drake of Hattiesburg as assistant counsel.

School Board Attorney Joseph Gex stated his firm was attempting to negotiate a settlement with the Attorney General's Office before the suit was filed.

"We're still negotiating," he said. Gex stated his firm was hired for that purpose.

"They (the school board) may have to hire another attorney to defend them in court if the case goes that far," he said.

The suit filed Monday notes the suit was filed Tuesday. A "possibility" exists that the law firm may have to excuse itself from the case if the suit is worded in a manner which would require that action.

The suit notes the defendants contracted companies to provide individuals without proper training and equipment to perform work required to be done by required equipment, heavy equipment or supplies.

The complaint also states the defendants failed to submit the itemized list of equipment and supplies to three reputable concerns licensed to do business with the State of Mississippi.

In addition the suit notes that defendants are liable for the sums paid to Gulf Electric, since Louis Lader was an employee of Gulf Electric. It being unlawful for any member of the board of trustees of any school district to be an employee of any firm or corporation which is interested in any contract made.

The suit also requests $5,000 from each defendant for "penal damages." By acting now, residence customers can save the regular CCS installation charge of $7.00, while business customers will enjoy a $16.00 savings.

State Senate ok measure

House to consider Open Records Bill

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Mississippi House of Representatives will soon be considering an Open Records Bill approved by the State Senate Tuesday afternoon in Jackson.

The legislation in its present form defines a citizen's right to inspect or reproduce any public document or record with the exception of personal records such as income tax statements. Sen. Martin Smith of Poplarville, Hancock County's legislator Tuesday in Jackson said, "This is a sensible piece of legislation and will allow the public to obtain public records without interfering with government operations."

Smith reported the House must act on the Senate's bill by March 2.

When asked if the measure would face strong opposition in the House, Smith replied, "The bill in its form this year has been improved as a result of the work Rep. J.P. Compitella (of Bay St. Louis) did in last year's subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee in the House."

In two previous legislative sessions, attempts failed to introduce an open records law in the House.

The Senate bill passed by a 26-22 margin. It is the first time since 1968 that an open records bill has been introduced in the Senate.

Wayne Weidie, Mississippi Press Association Legislative Committee chairman and publisher of the Ocean Springs Record, recently noted, "The bill will primarily assist the public."

"Journalists may not have difficulty obtaining public records now, but the average citizen may because he doesn't know the records he's entitled to view and this law defines a citizen's right to view these records," he explained.

Nash noted that present state laws explicitly allow citizens to view all county clerk records and campaign contribution statements of political candidates.

Dossett selected as HGH controller

MIKE DOSSETT

Selected as new controller of Hancock General Hospital is Mike Dossett, 29. Dossett replaced Mike Hallford effective Feb. 1, 1982.

Dossett is a graduate of Belmont College in Nashville, Tenn., where he received Bachelor of Science degrees in both administration and accounting.

He was most recently employed for three years as an assistant controller at Grand Bay General Hospital and Myrtle Beach, S.C. The hospital is a Hospital Corporation of America owned facility.

Dossett will be looking for permanent residence in Bay St. Louis and is currently residing in Bay Royal Apartments.

Budget hike eyed next year

Boy superintendent says

district within budget

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District is apparently staying within its 1981-1982 fiscal year budget, J.D. McCullough, superintendent of education, said at a Monday night Board of Trustees meeting that the district, now in its sixth month of the fiscal year, appears to be operating within its budget.

The superintendent reported the district's $2,990,205 budget is supported 50 percent by state funds, 34 percent by local monies and seven percent by federal funds. He said the district is spending $1,570,000 of which, local funds provide $529,000.

But McCullough warned that projected 1982-1983 budget requirements due to inflation will raise the total amount of funds needed to five to eight percent.

"We are within our budget at this stage of the game, but we're already thinking of another year with regard to income," he stated.

McCullough said enrollment districtwide is 1,990 as compared to 1,980-1981 enrollment of 1,934.

He speculated student enrollment would be about 1,934 during the 1982-1983 school year.

The superintendent also reported the district's assessed valuation is increasing.

He reported the 1980-1981 property assessment at $33,489,334; 1981-1982 at $35,546,881; and projected 1982-1983 at $37,030,000.

McCullough noted that in the previous school year the district recorded 139 student dropouts. He said so far this year 34 students have dropped out of classes in the district.

In other business at the 7:30 p.m. regular monthly meeting in the superintendent's office at Bay Senior High School, the board:

—Met executive session for about 15 minutes for an undisclosed reason;

—Granted extended sick leave to Catherine Carter through Feb. 15 and Cathy Elmer through Feb. 28;

—Authorized applying for emergency certificate for Barbara Jones so she can teach educationally handicapped children;

—Authorized McCullough to petition the City of Bay St. Louis for $13,500 to renovate two cooperative rest rooms.

Knights' Notes

The council recognizes efforts by all concerned with reorganization of Boy Scout Troop No. 217 sponsored by Our Lady of the Gulf Parish.

This year, Pere Le Duc Council has made a specific commitment to the youth of the community. Many council members who were Boy Scouts in Troop No. 217 when they were young have donated time and services to this reorganization.

J. Norton Haas, a Knight who long has been active in the Boy Scout troops along the Coast and has been appointed to the executive committee of Troop No. 217, states in Hancock County and St. Tammany a parish that there are no known records of a Boy Scout of America ever being in trouble with the police.

Scoutmaster for the troop is Paul Masson, who says that among the activities planned for the troop are camping trips, canoeing, swimming, and pioneering. Masson will be assisted by his two sons, one an Eagle Scout and the other a Life Scout, in the leadership of the troop.

The troop, which celebrated 50 years of scouting in 1980, currently boasts a membership of 20 boys and meets every Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. in the OLG School Annex.

Openings exist for more Scouts and adult leaders. Knights who have sons of age are asked to encourage them to join Troop No. 217.

The council has cancelled its Mardi Gras Masquerade Dance at the Council Hall planned for Saturday.

The Our Lady of the Gulf Carnival Association's annual Ball will be staged Friday, Feb. 19, at the OLG Gymnasium starting at 8 p.m. A second meeting of the council will be Monday, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p.m.

Lincoln's legacy: The cause of human freedom and ends of American democracy are one and the same

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following articles, entitled "Lincoln's Legacy," are by Dr. Wallace, a professor of history at the University of Chicago. The articles are reprinted from the "Chicago Tribune."

By Dr. ED WALLIN
February marks the 172d anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. In the aftermath of the fiery trial of Galleyburg, dedicated this nation to a "new birth of freedom."

Although it has with good reason been said that Lincoln like the founders of the nation numbered among the great men of the world, he was nevertheless true to his own nature. He was a man of the people, a man of the soil, a man of the plow. He was a man of the people, a man of the soil, a man of the plow. He was a man of the people, a man of the soil, a man of the plow.

rededication to the principles of the nation's founding. The issue of slavery had so vexed the Union during the formative years of Lincoln's generation that the bedrock of American democracy, the conviction that ours was the task of displaying before the entire world the fruits of free government, had crumbled year by year.

There was a growing sentiment in the South that slavery must expand into the new territories. In the North there was a corresponding fear of the consequences of attempting to prevent that expansion, odious though it was. Better, it was said by some in the North to accommodate the expansion of slavery.

But perhaps to agree that democracy can exist permanently on a foundation of slavery, that democracy means more than the right of a majority of any people anywhere to do whatever it wishes without regard to any consideration of right or justice. If a majority of the people of a territory, it was said, wish to introduce slavery amongst themselves, why perhaps that is their right.

Were it not for the issue of slavery, and the crisis in principle which it signified for a people originally dedicated to the proposition that "all men are created equal," the world would now take little note of Lincoln's public career.

But Lincoln possessed something of a "seeing eye" in moral matters. He was one of those rare men who have the ability to see through the surface of things to the profound issues of which they are sometimes merely the reflection. When the Kansas-Nebraska Act of 1854 repealed the Missouri Compromise, according to which slavery had been restricted more or less to the states in which it already existed, Lincoln dedicated his public career to a single, dominating purpose, to see to it that slavery was again restricted and to rebuke in his own and in subsequent generations the conviction that American democracy is inseparably linked to human rights.

The rugged force of soul within Lincoln, his dedication to the proposition that freedom cannot be divorced from justice, and his sure belief that the source of both was to be found in the Declaration of Independence, allowed him to face the greatest issue of his day. In Lincoln's view, the American people could not evade the necessity to choose between the stern requirements of liberty and an easy and comfortable expansion of slavery.

strengthened men's souls while the habits of ease and the fear of discord weakened them. It was Lincoln's belief that only if the nation were thus weakened from within could the people lose their inherited liberties.

But if the people remained strong, wrote Lincoln in 1838, "All the armies of Europe, Asia and Africa combined, with all the treasure of the earth (our own excepted) in their military chest, with a Bonaparte for a commander, could not, by force, take a drink from the Ohio, or make a track on the Blue Ridge, in a trial of a thousand years."

Only one utterly blind to the Soviet military buildup of the last two decades could venture to say the same today. But if one were to search for the reasons behind our inability, or rather our unwillingness, to maintain ourselves as the strongest, as well as freest nation on earth, we might well conclude that our external weaknesses are a sign of an internal weakness, a seismic fault, as it were, in the bedrock of our beliefs. We seem to be poised between those who would not defend freedom itself because they are uncertain of its worth and those who would not defend our freedom as a nation because they doubt the justness of its cause.

Lincoln's legacy consists above all in his teaching that the cause of human freedom and the ends of American democracy are one and the same. In celebrating the occasion of his birth, it is fitting that we remind ourselves that the enduring source of Lincoln's greatness is available to us today. We, no less than the men of Lincoln's time, are faced with the burden of insuring the survival of freedom.

We, no less than they, will find the strength to do so only when we come once again to appreciate the dignity of our cause, the baseness of that of our opponents, and the consequences for all men everywhere should we fail.

Hancock Bank symposium draws record attendance

By ELLIS CUEVAS
A record number of more than 600 persons attended the 16th Annual Economic Symposium conducted by Hancock Bank Wednesday.

Leo Seal Jr., bank president, opened the symposium by getting a prediction from those attending on what they feel the trend of the prime interest rate, mortgage rate and inflation rate will be at the end of 1982 compared to most recent years.

After noting the number of those who foresee increases, those who predicted unchanged levels, and those expecting a lower prime rate of interest, Seal said, "The number of you who stood for each answer was about equal and that is about the way the nation's feelings about 1982 are divided."

On mortgages, no one stood up who felt interest rates would be higher at the end of 1982 compared to 1981.

An approximately equal number of persons feel rates would be about the same as those feeling they would be lower.

Only a few people stood who thought the inflation rate would increase during 1982 over '81 and '82.

"President (Ronald) Reagan would have been proud of the last two categories standing," Seal added when about half the crowd thought inflation would be about the same as those thinking it would be lower in 1982.

The increase in inflation for 1979 was 13.3 percent, 1980, 14.4, and 1981, 8.9.

Dr. Huntley H. Biggs, manager of the Economic Research and Analysis Department of Mississippi Power, titled his talk on "The Impact of Economic Policy on the Gulf Coast's Outlook."

Biggs stated, "Inflation reaches everybody and all suffers as everyone is impacted."

He spoke on how 31 percent of the jobs on the coast six counties were governmental, with four-fifths federal and one-fifth being state and local school teachers.

"Things look better on the coast when you consider the 70,700 increased state population over a 10 year period resulted with two-thirds of it being in the six coast counties," Biggs allowed.

The six counties he was referring to were Jackson, Harrison, Hancock, Pearl River, Stone and George.

On introducing Leonard A. Harvey, president of Borg-Warner worldwide, Donald E. Sutter, chairman of the Board of Hancock Bank and master of ceremonies stated, "Borg-Warner's Plant in Hancock brings the first plant in the county with international connections and should add significantly to the industrial growth of the coast."

Harvey in his comments on "The Outlook for Productivity," compared American workers and industry with the Japanese.

He mentioned the importance of having employees being involved in the operations of business, and how change has to be made from the 60's and 70's when workers were treated like robots.

Judson D. Lowe, who titled his talk "Rose is a Rose," talked on supply and demand and how it has changed in his opinion from Economics 101.

Lowe is president of C.E. Randall of Houston and his firm has an industry on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Lowe felt, "After 30 or so years I am beginning to feel that way back 'Our economic rose garden was with a few thorns' and today it is 'A garden made up of thorns with a few roses'."

On the supply and demand comparison Lowe talked on how in six or seven years the cost of crude oil increased about 700 per cent and there was only an one half percent increase in demand.

He also mentioned the auto situation which he feels is at a "world-wide trauma" and not just American car manufacturers; and said on how his business showed an increase in two years for demand, but there was also an increase in supplies by other manufacturers coming into existence.

TERRY RANDOLPH

At a recent meeting of the Hancock County School District, Terry Randolph requested trustees not to consider reappointing him as 16th Section Land manager.

Randolph's one-year term expired Jan. 27.

His request to board members followed a report by the January term of the Hancock Grand Jury which commended him on his work negotiating leases which have been leased for "grossly inadequate amounts in the past."

Following the meeting with trustees in executive session, Randolph stated he would continue to be 16th Section Land manager for Jackson County.

He noted he now plans to devote more time to real estate and will be working as a realtor for Pressman Realty in Waveland.

Grape growers to meet at Mississippi State

The Mississippi Grape Growers Association will hold its winter meeting at Mississippi State University Feb. 13, according to Dr. Richard Mullenax, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service horticulturist.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. in Dorman Hall on the MSU campus.

Program topics and speakers will be: Vintners' Grape Situation in the Eastern United States, Richard DeVille Lawrence Sr., Vintners Wine Growers Association, The Plains, Va.; Muscadine Production in Mississippi, J.P. Overcash, horticulturist, Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry

Experiment Station, MSU; Potential for Bush Grapes in Mississippi, C.H. Hagwood, viticulturist, Truck Crops Experiment Station, Crystal Springs; and Pick Your Own Enterprises, Richard Mullenax.

Robert Burghin of Thousand Oaks Vineyard and Winery in Starkville and Sam Rushing of Winery Rushing in Merigold will speak on the topic "Where Have I Been, Where I Am and Where I Am Going."

The group will tour the MSU School of Veterinary Medicine and the A.B. McKay Food and Enology Laboratory while on the campus.

Pass Library featuring works by art instructor

Elizabeth Heiderhoff-Beasnett, a Gulfport native, is the artist displaying paintings and potteries at the Pass Christian Public Library through the month of February.

Mrs. Heiderhoff-Beasnett received her bachelor of arts in education and her master of arts in art education from the University of Mississippi. She also studied art at Mississippi University and Mississippi College.

She taught art for 12 years for the North Pass Schools and has presented a number of art education workshops for teachers and has taught art education graduate courses for the University of Mississippi-Desoto Center.

She has also taught private art education to adults. Over a period of 10 years, Mrs. Heiderhoff-Beasnett has supervised 40 art students in her studio.

She is presently teaching art education at the University of Mississippi.

Ms. Heiderhoff-Beasnett has had a one-woman show at the Pass Christian Playhouse and Sardinia Public Library. She has exhibited throughout the Mid South. Her work is represented in many private collections.

She is a member of Kappa Pi—the national art honorary and the National Art Education Association and the Mississippi Art Education Association.

She has served as a North Regional vice-president of the MABA and elementary art representative to the National Art Education Association.

Over the past 3 years Ms. Heiderhoff-Beasnett has served both as coordinator and co-coordinator for the Very Special Art Festival for the Handicapped sponsored by the Kennedy Foundation.

The festival was held at the University of Mississippi and at the North Mississippi Rehabilitation Center.

CINDERELLA students from the Association School for the Blind in the Waveland production Cinderella recently met with a teacher at the school, noted most of the children had never seen the movie, which is now considered a classic for both generations through the years. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

Arbor Day Foundation offering free trees

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving two free Red Maple trees to all new Foundation members joining during February 1982.

The free maple trees are part of the Foundation's effort to promote tree planting during 1982, the 100th Anniversary of the first observance of Arbor Day in schools.

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit organization, is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting. The Foundation will give two free Red Maple trees to new members contributing more than $10 during February.

The trees will be three to five feet tall and will be sent postage paid with enclosed planting instructions at an appropriate time for planting this spring. They are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free by the Foundation.

Foundation members also receive a "Say Trees and Smile" bumper sticker and a subscription to the Foundation's newsletter.

To become a member of the Foundation, and to receive the free trees, a $5 membership contribution should be sent to Two Free Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, Arbor Lodge 100, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Feb. 28, 1982.

Gifts for retirement funds with substantially reduced tax loads can be built with United States Savings Bonds purchased through the Payroll Savings Plan.

GHOST TALKER, a new production of "Thirteen Mississippi Cases and Jettie" featuring the narrator of Mississippi TV's new production, "Thirteen Mississippi Cases and Jettie," is featured here with Mr. Windham, director of the program. The program will be shown on WJLA-TV, Wednesday, February 17, at the Mississippi TV Network.

Stanislaus downed in Class AA tournament

The St. Stanislaus varsity basketball team were pumped out of District VIII Class AA tournament competition in Pascagoula Monday by a narrow 2-point margin.

The Picayune Maroon Tide heavily favored in the contest, managed to outperform Stanislaus in the fourth quarter to nip the Rocks 33-31.

Stanislaus Athletic Director Brother Louis noted the Rocks led the game in the first three periods.

Stanislaus' first quarter effort was a head scratcher, and in the last half the Rocks outscored the Rocks 10-7.

Brother Louis noted the Rocks played cautiously and waited for a good shot in the first half while Picayune missed a number of shots under the basket.

Stanislaus led 10-7 at the third quarter mark and at one point the fourth jumped out to a four-point lead.

Stanislaus pulled within four at the end of the game and then sunk a shot to put them two points behind with six seconds left in the game.

A pass from a Picayune player in bounds following the final St. Stanislaus basket hit the back board and the Rocks took possession for the last time in the half game.

A final shot missed and the buzzer sounded, ending the game in Picayune's favor.

FORMER CHAMP—Bay St. Louis native Joseph "Doc" Rhodes, hitting 300 pounds in a powerlifting meet several years ago in Mississippi, is scheduled to compete this Saturday in the fifteenth annual Mississippi Invitational Powerlifting Championships at the Brother Peter Memorial Gym at St. Stanislaus.

Competition is slated to begin at 9:30 a.m. and is expected to conclude at 4:30 p.m. Some 35 athletes from five states are expected to compete.

Johnston scores thirty-second TKO

Bay Kiln Waveland boxer Cory Johnston scored a TKO in 30 seconds over Hattiesburg opponent Mike Folsie during action Friday in Lyman, Miss. The Friday matches were sponsored by the Rebel Boxing Club. Johnston's fight with Folsie was a rematch requested by the Hattiesburg coach.

Also Friday, Wayne Karl of Ocean Springs, Ala., fought against James Compton of Ocean Springs. But David Bennette was his bout against James Compton of Ocean Springs. Chuck Karl of Waveland, boxing for Gulfport, was unable to secure a match Friday. Bay Kiln Waveland boxers Tony Guerrero and Timmy Yarbrough were also unable to secure matches that evening.

On Saturday the boxers attended matches in Mississippi City sponsored by the Gulfport Boxing Club. Wayne Carl was victorious again, defeating Bobby Begnard of Ocean Springs. Guerrero lost a close match with Clint "the mule" Webster from Biloxi in a split decision. Yarbrough lost by decision to Matt Cannette of Ocean Springs.

Johnston was unable to secure a match Saturday. The boxers are all working extra hard this week in preparation for Golden Gloves Competition in Hattiesburg scheduled Feb. 12, 13, and 14.

Bay Streakers take soccer Club victory

The Bay Streakers soccer team easily over Gulfport No. 5, 9-0 in the Under-10 South Mississippi Soccer Club.

David Barnes scored on a goal, and all four goals followed. The Streakers won their seventh game, a 9-0 victory over Gulfport No. 5 at 9 a.m. at the St. Charles Field.

Diamondhead nine-holers open season

The Diamondhead Women's nine-hole golfers opened their new season recently with Trophy Day. Eight A honours went to Gloria Landry for low gross, 3rd, 6th and 7th holes—Jean Hagg and Rhea Fox tied for first place. In Flight B, first place, Dawn Schmitt, second place, Chris Montgomery and Alvin Gullary, "Closest to the pin." The group voted to establish a memorial fund in memory to Sam Lamendola who, before his death, was associated with the Diamondhead golf course and was a friend to all golfers. A tree will be planted in Memorial Garden in his memory.

The Father A. C. Denis Council No. 7097, Knights of Columbus, of Kiln are sponsoring a family social program Wednesday, Feb. 17, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The program will feature blood pressure screening, pro-life presentation, and presentation of check to mentally retarded.

ALTRUISA CLUB

The Altrusa Club meets every 2nd and 4th Wednesday of the month. The meeting held on the 2nd is at 7 p.m. in the county library meeting room, whose entrance faces Uman Ave. This is the business meeting. A dinner is held on the 4th Wednesday at 6 p.m. at the Kiln Community Center.

A promising sign is going up in WAVELAND

The famous McDonald's® Golden Arches™ are going up at Choctaw Plaza very soon. And along with them, you'll be getting a fast, inexpensive, high-quality family restaurant.

You'll get our famous
Choctaw Plaza, Hwy. 90 Waveland

McDonald's food. Our famous McDonald's service (with a smile, a "thank you," and a "come again") And our famous McDonald's value.

So come in soon.
We think you'll find us to be a good neighbor.

Opening last week of February 1982.

Dixie Drawl resumes weekly publication

Pearl River College's Dixie Drawl resumes its weekly publication for the spring semester with the Jan. 25 edition.

"I think the staff can produce a first-class publication that will rate high at the spring competition of the Mississippi Junior College Press Association," said Larry Stanford, Drawl faculty advisor.

PRC's student newspaper has been the most dominant force in junior college publications during the entire decade of the seventies and is currently rated as the number one publication from last year.

The Dixie Drawl will once again be aiming at capturing the prestigious title of Best Overall Newspaper against all other junior colleges in the state.

The weekly Dixie Drawl will offer readers an expanded coverage of news affecting students, staff, and teachers at the college.

The Dixie Drawl has a history of being first in journalistic accomplishments for junior college publications.

In 1973, Pearl River published the first full-size newspaper, abandoning the tabloid publications most readily used by junior colleges across the state.

During 1974, The Dixie Drawl released the first four process color pictures to ever appear in a Mississippi junior college newspaper.

"We are hoping, through good journalism and proper training in layout, The Dixie Drawl can continue to produce the finest junior college publication in the state, and one of the best in the country," commented Stanford.

In the past ten years The Dixie Drawl has collected 82 state awards, has had 15 state officers to serve on the Junior College Press Association staff, and was first overall in 1974, 1975, 1976, 1978, 1980, 1981, and second in 1977 and 1979.

"We certainly have a tradition to live up to at the Drawl," said Stanford, "but with hard work and dedication and the nerve to try new ideas in bettering our publication, we should fair pretty well at convention time."

Science fair date, location reported

The 1982 Science Fair competition schedule has been released through the University of Southern Mississippi by Lawrence J. Bellpanti, executive officer of Mississippi science fairs.

Locations and dates for the regional fair in Region 1—University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. Registration deadline: 5 p.m. March 10. L. J. Bellpanti, director, Herb Lamb, Linda Taylor and Malcolm McEwen co-directors. For details write: USM, Southern Station Box 8290, Hattiesburg, MS 39401, or call 268-7162.

Students, their science teachers and parents should make note of the following guidelines:

1. Only Class 3, 4, and 5 exhibitors placing first through fifth at the Regional Fair can participate in the State Fair at Jackson State.
2. Regional honorable mention winners can not participate. No class 1 or 2 projects may exhibit.
3. No substitutions are permitted for those unable to attend.
4. One or two students will be selected from Classes 4 or 5 (grades 9-12) to participate in the 33rd International Science & Engineering Fair in Houston, May 10-15, 1982. ISEF changes for 1982 are available from fair directors.
5. Class distribution of projects by the student's grade are: class 1—grades 1 to 3; class 2—grades 4 to 6; class 3—grades 7 to 8; class 4—grades 9 to 10; class 5—grades 11 to 12.
6. Class allows group projects, made by 2 or 3 students, in addition to individual entries. All other classes are limited to individual projects.
7. Categories for classes 1-5 (grades 1-9) are: behavioral/social sciences; math; computers; earth & space; botany; & microbiology; chemistry and biochemistry; physics and engineering; zoology; medicine and health.
8. Grades 9-12 may enter all of the above for classes 1-5 in addition to environmental sciences.
9. Students planning to enter 1982 competition should secure registration forms immediately from their science teachers or write fair directors in their area for additional information.

EYE DISORDERS

An estimated 400,000 preschoolers ages 3-5 and in every 20 have vision problems. Among school-age children, eye disorders affect in every 20 about 12.1 million. Conditions such as crossed eyes, amblyopia (lazy eye), near-sightedness or farsightedness, without treatment by age 6, amblyopia can result in permanent reduction of vision—or even blindness—in the affected eye.

TIGER FANS—Olga Boyd, a second grade student, and P. J. Maunfrey, a fourth grade student, are two of 42 students at Waveland Elementary School who received T-shirts in a recent candy sale. The I'm a Tiger Fan shirts imprinted in gold on blue are now being sold by the Waveland Parents-Teachers Organization. The shirts are available in children and adult sizes for $5 each. Orders will be taken following the PTO meetings Feb. 9, March 9 and April 13, and at the Spring Festival April 16.

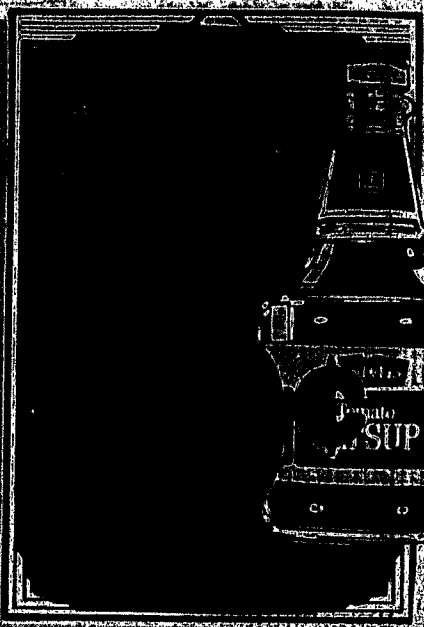

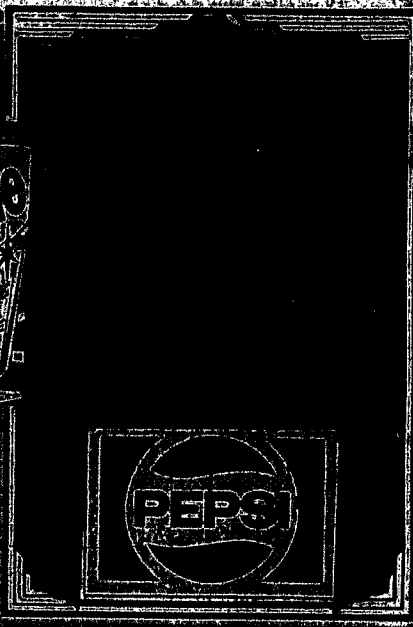

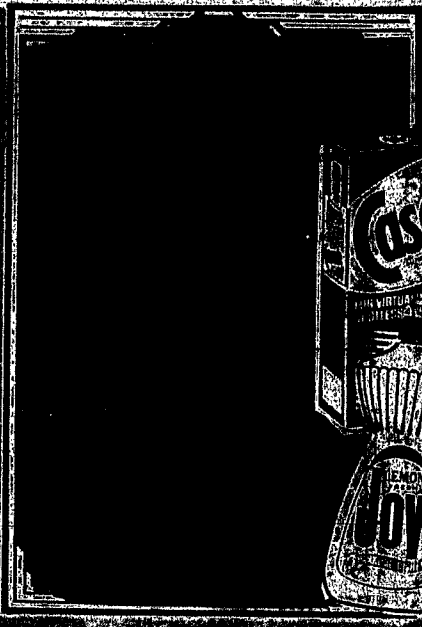

ACTION ON THE NORTHERN BORDER

We call it the Northern Border Project. It's a new pipeline being constructed from Big Horn country into the Midwestern United States. United Gas is a partner in this visionary project. When completed, 400 million cubic feet of gas will be delivered to us each day from Canada for eventual use by United's customers.

This project is a segment of the proposed Alaska Natural Gas Transportation System that eventually will bring natural gas from the rich Alaskan fields. United's share of the new Canadian gas—and Alaskan gas when it becomes available—will be exchanged in the Mid-West for gas closer to the Gulf South.

It seems strange to be bringing Canadian and Alaskan gas to Louisiana. But this costly and complex project is one of the many things United is doing to keep its gas flowing to its customers.
